Locus Sphere Desk

The Locus Sphere has everything the original Locus Desk offers, with an expansive desktop that boasts 40% more workspace. It's a height and angle adjustable standing desk that also pairs beautifully with the iconic Locus Seat, creating a workstation for the digital age. From the gentle arc of the American made desktop to the buffed aluminum legs, Sphere is an elegant and sleek design that looks beautiful in any setting. Numerous options make Sphere fully customizable; choose from a Stay Flat Shelf, iMac Bracket, LED Worklight, and Cable Management Tray.

Powder-coated extruded and cast aluminum base with furniture-grade hardwood ply top. Choice of natural wood veneers in white oak and black walnut, and laminates in matte black or glacier white. German-made lifting mechanism is operated by a central crank. Can accommodate persons ranging in height from 4'11" to over 6'10."

Constructed of globally-sourced materials; assembled in and distributed from Portsmouth, Rhode Island.
